

New OCR gates at the Terminal Busto Arsizio-Gallarate

The Terminal Busto Arsizio-Gallarate introduces a new entry and exit process for trucks. Two OCR gates (Optical Character Recognition) have been installed to simplify and speed up entry and exit activities from the terminal for drivers, thanks to image recognition technology.

All trucks that enter the terminal to deliver or collect units, can only and exclusively access through the OCR gate. This is what you need to do:

Entrance ticket

The totem at the entrance of via Dogana, allows you to collect the ticket that authorises the access in the terminal. Attention, the ticket is essential for the registration at the entrance and the exit from the terminal. Keep it carefully and don't lose it!

Entrance OCR gate

Proceed and pass under the road portal, where the loading unit and the plate are automatically recognized. Drive on to the check-in area for routine inspections of the loading unit.

Enter the operations office for checking/delivery/collection of documents.

Once the check-in is complete, enter the terminal to collect or deliver the loading units.

Exit ticket

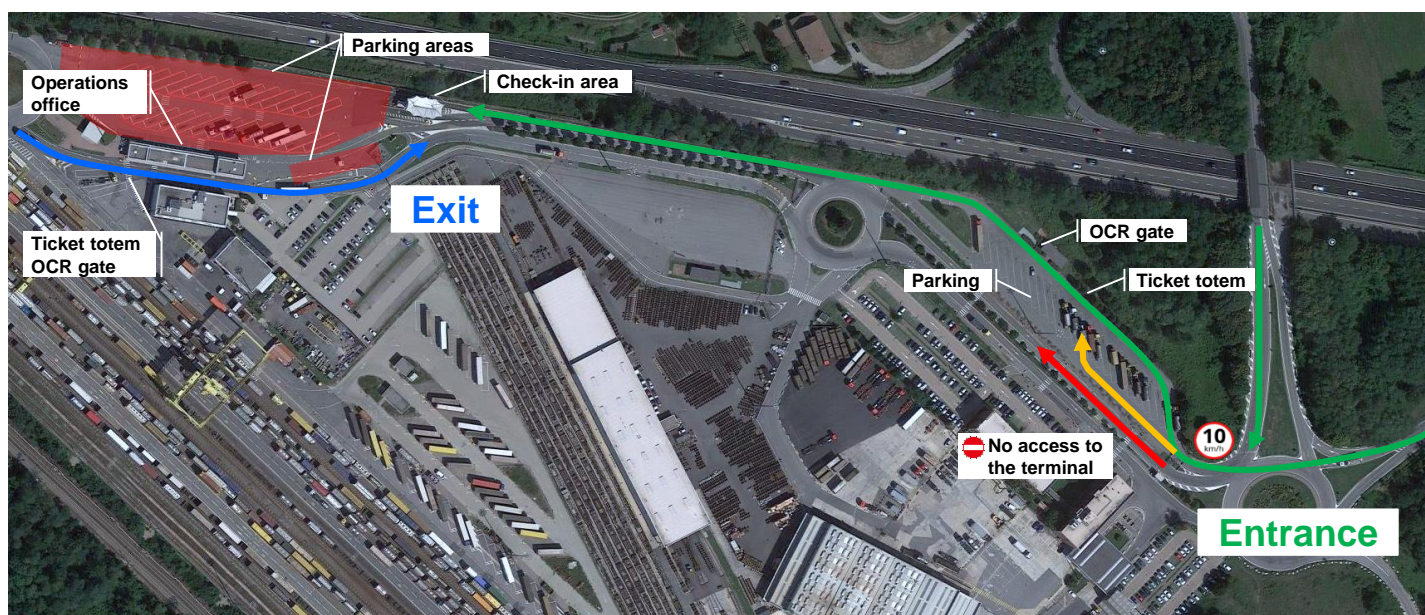

At the exit, approach the ticket to the scanner of the totem to finalise the process.

Exit OCR gate

The exit OCR gate automatically checks the vehicle and the loading unit, and authorises the exit from the terminal.
